Claims 1-9 have been cancelled. The active claims are 10-53.

Figures 1, 3 6 and 8 are objected to under 37CFR 1.84(o) for lack of legends.

Claim 48 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

For proper antecedent basis, "web" in line 2 of claim 48 should be "world wide web".

In line 5 of claim 48, the term "web" appears to be missing after "wide".

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Claim 48 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being clearly anticipated by Berstis (USP 6,092,100).

See Figures 1 and 3 in Berstis. Berstis teaches :

A system for facilitating navigation among websites and web pages at the websites that are accessible via the web, said system comprising:

a peripheral linking device (keyboard) for facilitating navigation in the world wide;
a browser terminal (client 10, Fig. 1) which is coupled to the peripheral linking device, and which displays information retrieved from the world wide web by using the peripheral linking device; and a merchant database (web server42) which is hosted at a merchant database website and which displays merchant information, wherein the peripheral linking device navigates to the merchant database to thereby display the merchant information on the browser terminal.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 49-50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Berstis (USP 6,092,100) in view of Perkowski (USP 6,961,712).

Berstis teaches claim combination set forth above. Bertis does not teach a touch-screen keyboard. Touch-screen keyboard is well known in the art. Perkowski teaches a browsing system having a touch-screen keyboard. From the teaching of Perkowski, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to use a tocy-screen type keyboard in Berstis so that commands can be inputted by screen touching.

Claims 10-47 and 51-53 are allowed if claim 51 is rewritten in independent form.
